

Table of Contents

Chapter	Description	Page
1	Why Performance Management? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Developing a Performance Management Culture → Objectives of a Performance Management System (PMS) → Role of the Line Manager in successful PMSs → Motivational benefits of a PMS → The Ten ‘Performance Commandments’ 	1
2	The D E F T Model of Performance Management <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Dialogue between each Manager and his/her employee → Expectations about the requirements of the job → Feedback on performance → Timely treatment of the first three components of the D E F T model 	7
3	D E F T – Dialogue <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Dialogue as the foundation of PMS → Building trust levels → Dialogue as an aid to coaching behaviours → Getting joint agreement on critical areas of job responsibility → Overcoming defensiveness → A two-way process 	15
4	D E F T – Expectations of Performance <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Clarification of expectations → Linking to Divisional/Corporate goals → Establishing Key Result Areas that focus on results → Collaboration and active involvement in goal setting → Skills for goal setting 	25

Chapter	Description	Page
5	DE F T – Feedback <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Feedback as an on-going process → Linking to agreed KRAs and goals → Preparing for the session → Structured format for feedback sessions → Tips for giving and receiving feedback → Exploring positive and constructive feedback → Commitment for follow-through 	37
6	DE F T – Timely Approach <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Integrating PMS with other core organisation systems → Feedback should be close to the event → Regular reviews within PMS → Tips for interim and annual reviews → Sample timetable for phases of PMS → Ensuring the provision of enabling conditions for success of PMS 	47
7	People Development Commitments <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Creating a positive climate for people growth → Focus on organisational needs → Insights on personal development within PMS → Alternative development opportunities within organisations → Integration with Organisation Training and Development plan → Follow-through on commitments 	55
8	Competencies: A Key Approach to People Development <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Focus on ‘how’ the job is to be done → Competency development and high performance → How to build Competency based approaches to people development → Values for competency approaches → Coaching for personal development 	63

Chapter	Description	Page
9	Linking Performance to Reward <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Linking performance and pay across an organisation → Complexity of pay for performance → Rewarding behaviours and achievement → Decisions on ‘weighting’ of reward criteria → Consistency and fairness of reward 	77
10	Critical Success Factors <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Role of top management → Line of sight to Organisation goals → Integration of PMS with Organisation systems → Participative dialogue → Quality Feedback skills → Best practice coaching and training → Consistency of application → Regular recognition of good performance → Personal development → Managers ‘make the call’ → Excellent follow-through mechanisms 	87
A	Appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> → Appendix I – Template of Simple Performance Management ‘Form’ → Appendix II – Sample Template for the Structure of Performance Discussions 	97